How to order a picture. Write me an email with the number of chosen and a message about the readiness for prepayment of the order. After clarifying the details in my answer and in the subsequent coordination of the size of the painting and the deadlines, you must make an advance payment of 50% and get the painting by the deadline with the final payment.

I do not deliver the picture. You can pick up your order in South Brooklyn at the time of the agreed visit, in person or through your agent.

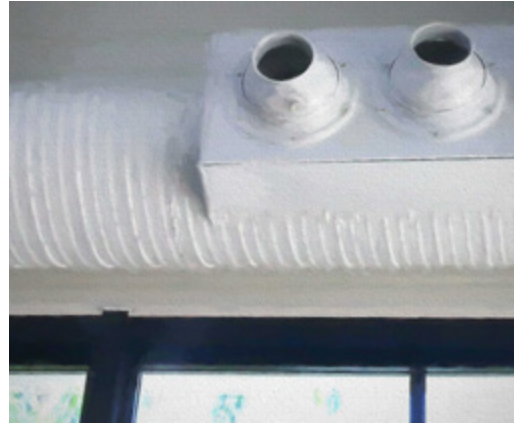

The catalog contains digital sketches as references for my paintings.

I show my personal sketches of the planned paintings, which will be executed by me in one copy, after which I will be deleted from the catalog. Correspondence of the sketch to the completed picture can be approximate, but in general and basically consistent with the author's intention. Sold paintings are not refundable.
